THIS WEB SITE DOES NOT PROVIDE MEDICAL ADVICE.

Dr. Merrick's Dental Studio ("DMDS") uses this website (drmerrickdds.com) as well as branded social media sites ("DMDS Sites") to provide general information about dental health care topics. The contents of this site, such as text, videos, graphics, images, quoted information and all other materials ("Content") are provided for reference only and are not complete or exhaustive. Content is not medical advice and is not to be used or relied on for diagnosis or treatment. Content does not take the place of instructions or advice from your dentist or dental health care provider and may not necessarily take into account your individual oral health situation. Talk to your dentist or oral health care provider before making a dental decision. DMDS assumes no duty to correct or update the Content nor to resolve or clarify any inconsistency within the Content. Reliance on any Content is solely at your risk. The DMDS site may contain health or medically related materials considered graphically explicit. If you may be offended by such Content, an alternate source of information should be found. Publication of information or reference to specific sources such as specific products, procedures, treatments, or diagnoses are for information only and are not endorsements by DMDS.
